*The Fossil Record:
Unearthing Nature's History of Life*
J. D. Morris

Evolutionists rely on the fossil record for support of their theory, but what does that record really reveal? ICR geologist Dr. John Morris unearths the evidence of earth's history and concludes that the fossil record is incompatible with evolution, but remarkably consistent with the biblical account of creation and the great Flood of Noah's day.

How do I explain the differences between biblical creation and evolution?

What evidence for the origin of life should my students know?

Where do I go for trustworthy information on science research and education?

For nearly 40 years, the Institute for Creation Research has equipped teachers with evidence of the accuracy and authority of Scripture. In keeping with this mission, ICR presents Science Education Essentials, a series of science teaching supplements that exemplifies what ICR does best—providing solid answers for the tough questions teachers face about science and origins.

This series promotes a biblical worldview by presenting conceptual knowledge and comprehension of the science that supports creation. The supplements help teachers approach the content and Bible with ease and with the authority needed to help their students build a defense for Genesis 1-11.

Each teaching supplement includes a content book and a CD-ROM packed with

K-12 reproducible classroom activities and PowerPoint presentations. Science Education Essentials are designed to work within your school's existing science curriculum, with an uncompromising foundation of creation-based science instruction.

Origin of Life

How did life get started on earth? Many scientists believe that life began from natural processes, but the Bible presents a better explanation.

Origin of Life, the first of the series, answers basic life questions such as:

- What is the origin of life?
- What are the physical and biblical definitions of life?
- What are the physical requirements for life?
- Can life exist elsewhere in the solar system?

It gives scientific explanations for the chemical basis for life from a biblical worldview and discusses the efforts to create life in the laboratory. Most importantly, it offers scientific evidence proving that the creation of life “requires an act of God.”

Structure of Matter

Predictions in science are based on knowledge of observable events. The accuracy with which science can make predictions points to the order and structure God established within His created universe.

Structure of Matter, the second of the series, explores structural forces and elements of nature such as:

- The First and Second Laws of Thermodynamics
- The structure of the atom
- The periodic table
- Properties of matter
- And more

The order and design of the universe originated from a Creator of omnipotent power and omniscient strength. Truly, the structure of matter upholds the truth that “in the beginning, God created the heaven and the earth.”

Human Heredity

Genes provide most of the information that determines physical appearance, and even influence certain behaviors. In spite of the differences among humans, their genomes are still 99.9% identical. Did everyone come from two people?

Human Heredity, the third of the series, examines such topics as:

- Our inheritance from our parents
- Dominant and recessive traits
- Human descent from Adam and Eve
- Polygenic inheritance
- And more

The study of genetics has expanded our understanding of human inheritance, leading to the inevitable conclusion that all humans came from the first created man and woman. “And Adam called his wife’s name Eve; because she was the mother of all living” (Genesis 3:20).

For the availability of this supplement, visit www.icr.org/essentials

Genetic Diversity

God created an incredible variety of incredible creatures—and it seems He created us in His image to enjoy that variety. What is the science behind this wonderful diversity?

Genetic Diversity, the fourth in the series, takes an in-depth look at:

- The classification of living things
- Differences among species and within kinds
- Diversity and the mosaic concept
- And more

When it comes to the kinds of life observable today, the overwhelming scientific evidence strongly supports the thinking of creation scientists that life can only come from the eternal Creator.

For the availability of this supplement, visit www.icr.org/essentials

Geologic Processes

What geologic processes shaped our earth? Is evolution right, that it developed gradually over millions of years? Or does the geologic record demonstrate something else?

Geologic Processes, the fifth in the series, studies earth’s history to answer the questions:

- Did the earth start as a cosmic collection of star dust?
- What processes shape the earth today?
- What types of rocks are found on earth?
- What is the geologic evidence for a worldwide flood?
- And more

The world is a museum of past processes that operated on a much greater scale, proceeded at a more rapid rate, and acted with more intensity than those acting today. The best explanation for earth’s history is the biblical record of creation and the great Flood.
